

The week just past has taken on more of social life and gaiety, and society is rapidly assuming her mid-summer activity and is preparing to enjoy herself out of doors.

A number of lawn parties helped to enliven the week, while dancing at Sultair has become the popular evening amusement of the gay set who are spending the summer in town.

For the coming week the social program, though not complete, is nevertheless, very promising.

The out-of-town season is now at its height. Brighton is crowded, and there is no lack of activity among the cottagers and guests at Silver Lake Inn. There is hardly a night that the young folks are not kept busy with bonfires, roving parties and all kinds of to-do amusement.

The past week was gay, indeed, and opened auspiciously with a dance at the hotel in honor of the Twenty-fourth. The same evening Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney gave a large bonfire, in honor of Governor Wells and his party, while the remaining days were filled with delightful affairs.

The army of summer visitors have taken possession of Wasatch, and the days are filled with gaiety. Among the cottagers are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Moyle, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McGurkin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kink, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tracy, Professor and Mrs. Daynes and Bishop Preston and family.

The engagement of Miss Emma McCormick and Mr. Arthur H. Bird was announced during the week. The wedding, which will take place in the near future, will be a brilliant affair.

Mrs. Edwin Kimball entertained at a lawn party Thursday evening, the affair being given in honor of her daughter, Mary, and her sons, Edwin and Douglas.

The interior of the home was artistically decorated with the national colors, intermingled with golden red, sweet peas and roses.

The grounds surrounding the home were brilliantly illuminated with colored lights and lanterns.

On the front lawn a dancing floor had been laid, and it was here the guests spent the greater part of the evening, dancing to the music of Christensen's orchestra.

The guests were: The Messrs. Hardy, Salisbury, Forbes, Bancroft, Carter, Parsons, Sherman, Kessler, Griffin, Davidson, Westfield, Irma Alf, Anderson, Terhune, Annett, Trent, Miller, Williams, Richards, Paul, Brinton, Hill, Hartwell, Robbins, Leonard, Sallie Leonard, Glendinning, Jasmine Young, McCrystal, Earl, Squires, Lee, Sand, Riley, Colbeth, Lawrence, Reed, Stella Watson, Murphy, Allen, Bird, Odell, Brown, Daly, Shaughnessy, Maggie Daly, Sawyer, Gussie Sawyer, Welby, Lena Welby, Nellie Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. Albert, Lawrence, Hamme, Harry Hathaway, Messrs. Our Brighton Letter.

The torrid wave of the past week in Salt Lake has had the effect of sending big delegations to the mountains, and at Brighton the popular Silver Lake Inn has several times had to hang out the "No more" sign.

The popular route is by way of the Rio Grande western to Park City, thence seven miles over the top of the mountains by Kimball's stage to Brighton, a drive, or a horseback ride, just as you prefer, which, for air, view and sublimity of scenery cannot be surpassed in all the Wasatch range.

The hotel people, as well as the cottagers and campers, keep their cottages and camps "keep their cottages" for the entertainment of guests and picnic parties, excursions, tramps to the peaks, and at night bonfires, with the attendant impromptu concerts are of daily and nightly occurrence. The presence of Governor Wells and party, on the 25th, was made the occasion of a mammoth bonfire, and George D. Fyfe, manager of the theatre, Miss Lily Bitner, H. G. Whitney and several other members of the local opera company, with Bert Morris, guitarist, and Walt Meeks, primo tenor, also being in camp, some pretty musical numbers were rendered, and the hilarity was kept up till a late hour.

A "candy walk" is announced for a dozen (Saturday) at the hotel, and a dozen couples have agreed to enter for the cake, which has been made by Lett & Lambert's prize Chinese cook. The next big event at the "inn" is set for Aug. 19, when Koltz, the candy man, goes up to engineer a mammoth "candy pull," distributing 200 pounds of his wares to all who are in attendance; everyone is invited.

On Thursday afternoon Miss Louise Odell gave a Kensington, at which the following ladies were present: Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Margaret E. Lambert, Mrs. S. A. Whitney, Miss Josephine Wells, Miss May Bartlett, Miss Ella Goble, Miss Clara Brooks, Miss Harvy, C. H. Fearsall, manager of Leysons, with his family, will arrive next week. Hon. E. W. Wilson, wife and child, are also expected.

Among the recent arrivals at the hotel are: M. A. Brouse, Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp, Mrs. B. A. McMillen, Miss McMillen, Kathryn Geddes, Blanche Burke, Mrs. Alice S. Little, Minnie Little, Fannie Little, Clara Little, Romaine Little, Fernand Little, Decker Little, Mrs. Francis Smith, Muskegon, Mich.; E. F. TAUGHT TO BUILD NESTS.

One Feature of the Education of Young Birds.

Philadelphia Inquirer: It is a common error to believe that with birds the knowledge of building their nests is innate. It is a trade that is taught to every bird by its parents and in just as systematic a manner as men are trained to be builders. Birds are born with the instinct to carry little twigs and the materials of which nests are made, but unless they are instructed in the art of building, they will just drop them in a pile and never attempt to weave them into nests.

It is after the young birds have learned to fly that the older ones regularly teach them the process of interweaving and lining that is necessary to construct the nests. This is most complicated, and a trade peculiarly their own; it cannot be initiated, even by men. To arrange the little twigs so that they will be symmetrical and strong enough to hold the weight of the mother bird and four or five little ones to a branch of a tree requires good engineering ability. The lining of the nest is usually of a much softer material than that of which the outside is made, and to place this neatly is also taught by the older birds. Humming birds will often follow crows for days to pick up their soft hair with which to line their nests, and they weave it as compactly as a piece of dannel. Birds that have always been in cages can never make nests, and are pitifully clumsy, even with cotton, wool and material that has been given to them and never attempt to weave them into nests.

That nest-building is taught is also true of those that squirrels and mice build, as well as bees, wasps and ants. The green ant of Australia is also clever in the building of its nest. It appears to consider it an irksome duty that can be hired out. A small spider is therefore trained to do this work, and acts as a servant in all things. The green ants pay the spiders for their labors in coin that they enjoy. It is by giving them to eat a portion of the innumerable little eggs that they, the ants, lay. This is a most agreeable arrangement for all man included, as otherwise the green ants would rival the rabbits in overrunning Australia.

What We Are Like.

Philadelphia North American: "I think," said the governor of the Lardons, disdainfully, "that you Americans are a race of shopkeepers."

"No," replied the captain of the Charleston, as he proceeded to raise Old Glory, "we are more like a nation of real estate operators."
